The Junior Walk

Dedication

To her whose wholehearted understanding of our problems has given a new meaning to Sincerity and Co-operation; whose generous counsel, efficiency and diligence have been of benefit to the entire school; whose charm and vibrant personality have inspired us all—we dedicate this, THE 1940 LAMP.

MISS HELEN L. BEEDE

to the Registrar

Foreword

The Staff of 1940 has endeavored in this, the seventeenth volume of the LAMP, to help preserve the many pleasant memories of our days at Lasell. Through hard work and cooperation we have attained as complete a record as possible, in words and pictures, of the curricular and extracurricular activities. But now our work is finished and we offer this book to you with the hope that it may bring pleasure to you now and in the future.

"Honor we bear, to thee, dear cap and gown"

MY GOOD FRIENDS OF LASELL 1940:

Your graduation marks one stage of your continuous growth. A school is like a nursery for young trees. When your college years are over your intellectual tree should be well started, with ample roots and balancing trunk, branches and leaves. The long period devoted to its early culture is given in the hope that it will continue to develop for nearly a hundred years.

May you each nurture and protect your tree so that it may grow to the full stature of a healthy, vigorous, mature oak, pine or elm.

Cordially yours,

Guy M. Winslow

DEAR 1940—

Nothing can take away happy memories. This is your birthright. Cling to it in these sombre times of uncertainty and world tragedy.

My wish for you is a courageous and honest intelligence to meet whatever may come, and a never wavering faith that increasing understanding and love will find a right solution.

May the challenge of the need bring out the best in each of you.

Margaret Rand

LASELL MOVES AHEAD!

Edward Lasell, Professor of Chemistry at Williams College, founded Lasell Junior College (then known as Lasell Seminary for Young Women) in 1851. The school was located on the crest of a hill, situated in Auburn Dale, West Newton, Massachusetts. The purpose of an institution such as this was to further the higher education of young women—indeed a rare thing at this time.

Lasell Seminary—1880—with the Lasellites entertaining their Sunday afternoon visitors.

When Professor Lasell died in 1853, George Briggs succeeded him as principal until 1862. After he resigned, Reverend Charles W. Cushing took his place as principal until 1873, when the school was purchased by a group of leading Boston men. Charles Bragdon then became the head. Dr. Bragdon slowly bought back the school, and later sold it to Dr. Guy M. Winslow, when the latter became Lasell's president. In 1921 the school became a corporation under the law governing non-profit educational organizations. The name was changed by legislative action in 1932, from Lasell Seminary to Lasell Junior College. Although in name Lasell is a comparatively new junior college, the fact existed many many years before the name. In reality, Lasell is the oldest junior college in New England, and one of the oldest in the United States.

In a brief history of the school, a wealth of information can be gained by comparing an early catalogue of 1853 with one of today. To quote from this early issue, "The buildings are new and spacious and are fitted with all modern improvements, which may tend to secure the comfort of pupils. The young ladies' rooms are of larger size than ordinary, with high ceilings, well ventilated, and furnished with carpets and neat and appropriate furniture." May it be noted the building was heated by stoves placed in the corridors.

The regular expenses for boarding students were $200, day students $48. The school year was divided into two terms, September 15 to February 1, and February 23 to July 14.

Weekly compositions were required from all members of the Seminary. During the four-year course of general study, trigonometry, analogy, grammar, philosophy, history were offered, also music and drawing. Pupils were required to attend church every Sabbath, and there was a general required study of the Bible every Sunday afternoon. At the end of each session a public two-day examination was given.

As stated in the catalogue of 1864-5 under "Graduation", "There are three courses provided for young ladies, a classical course, a scientific course, and a course of art; having completed either of which, or an equivalent, students will receive an authorized diploma."

By 1877 Lasell was unique in giving girls practical housekeeping experience. The first year the students attended lectures on Home Economics, and the next year, six at a time, they did their practice housekeeping. This idea was rapidly adopted by other schools. Other courses now taught included making wax flowers and fruit, inlaying pearl, dressmaking, millinery, and oratory. All of these were deemed helpful in preparing the young women for a useful, well-rounded life.

Room 3—1902—how many thumb tacks allowed in the walls?!

In looking back fifty years we find Lasell had a very distinguished faculty. The Shakespeare classes were headed by Henry N. Hudson, the great Shakespearean authority. He was succeeded by Professor William J. Rolfe, now of Harvard University, who was in turn followed by Homer B. Sprague.

Winslow Hall—1939—our newest addition.

In our present-day catalogue we can quickly note many changes. Attendance at Sunday Vespers is required and students are cordially welcomed at any of the churches available in the neighboring communities. Numerous fields of specialization are now offered, as compared to the original three.

The college property covers thirty acres and the school owns approximately twelve resident houses besides the gymnasium and administration building. Blueprints are now being drawn up for the construction of a building to be used for classrooms.

Lasell moves ahead!

Honorary Member

With music as our theme, whom could we have more appropriately selected as our honorary member than Mr. Sergei Rachmaninoff, one of the greatest pianists in the world today.

Inspired by the death of his composer-friend Scriabin in 1915, Rachmaninoff determined to express more of life in his music. At Scriabin's grave, he resolved to make a concert tour of all the larger cities and towns of Europe, playing exclusively the pianoforte works composed by Scriabin.

The success of the tour undoubtedly influenced his career as a concert pianist. This pattern of his activities came to embrace an American tour each season from January to April, preceded by a European tour from October to November. In 1931 he acquired a small estate on Lake Lucerne, there to spend the intervening months in rest and recreation and from time to time in composition. It was stated in a recent article that he once explained, "When I composed, I was told that I was a good pianist. When I played the piano, I was told I was a good composer. Why conduct and give them a chance to devise further variation on the theme?"

He feels music should bring relief to human beings, it should rehabilitate minds and souls.

Mr. Rachmaninoff sums up his own philosophy in the words of Heine, "What life takes away, music restores."

SERGEI RACHMANINOFF

CLASS ADVISOR

My heart shall ever ring with praise and fond remembrance for my girls of 1940. Your loyalty, friendship, and enthusiasm, so characteristic of true Lasell spirit, have given me real joy. May the years ahead strengthen our bonds and bring to you all a deep realization of life's very best.

*Keep a song in your heart; it will lighten
The duty you hold in your hand;
Its music will graciously brighten
The work your high purpose has planned.*

Most sincerely,

Senior Songs

CLASS SONG

Hail the Class of 1940, the Daughters of Lasell,
For our banner of the green and white,
we'll give a lusty yell...Rah, Rah!!
With our Lamp of Learning glowing,
And our minds with one ideal,
The years we've spent at dear Lasell deep in our hearts we'll seal...
Hail the Class of 1940, the Daughters of Lasell,
With loyal hearts we're ever true, in everything we do...

FAREWELL SONG

As 1940 draws near the end,
We join our hands, and pledge to a friend
We'll always loyal and faithful be
And cherish memories of Lasell and thee.

Too soon will come the parting day
From friends we'll be so far away
Yet these joined hands mean fidelity
We'll ne'er forget dear Lasell and thee.

Cap and Gown Song

Cap and Gown Song

Honor we bear, to thee, dear Cap and Gown
For memories and joys which you have wrought;
Into thy care we pledge our lamp of learning;
Be yours to hold it high and keep it burning.
In future years we'll look to thee with yearning.
Our hearts are thine with love and truth a-glowing,

Loyally bound, O Cap and Gown.
(Hum)
O Cap and Gown.

CLASS WILL

Gardner's trapdoor

In the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty, we, the Seniors of Lasell Junior College, Town of Auburndale, State of Massachusetts, being, in general, in sound state of mind and body, do hereby proclaim this our last will and testament—

To Dr Winslow, Miss Potter, Dean Rand, and the entire faculty, we say farewell and many thanks for their invaluable help.

To anyone who can find it, we leave Gardner's secret trap door.

To the future naughty girls of Carpenter we leave a supply of nickels at Bragdon to enable them to order their nightly snacks.

To the 1941 residents of Clark we leave an escalator to be erected up the center of Bragdon lawn, Mr. Ordway's pride and joy, so that they may leave Clark at 7:33 and still make breakfast.

To those who will soon live in Briggs we leave our pets consisting of one cat and one goldfish. May there always be a bowl between them!

To next year's amateur sleuths of Dillingham, we leave our "Charlie McCarthy Detective Set," and our well-thumbed volumes of Sherlock Holmes.

To the incoming seniors we, the "sisters" of Cushing bequeath the shrill ten o'clock curfew.

To the future residents of Pickard we leave a hope for a more quiet and greater interest in the conservation of the ceiling.

To the incoming senior president we leave Priscilla Sleeper's leadership and administrative ability as Senior Class president.

To next year's senior song leader we leave a dozen bottles of Father John's Nerve Calmer prescribed by Mary Mathews, to be taken before leading the Cap and Gown Song for the first time, and also one hour after no one appears for song practice.

To future residents of Carpenter 5, we leave Mary's, Nan's, and Katie's knack of always arriving in the nick of time.

To Ginny Black we leave Flossie Ross's size 9 dress and size 3½ shoe with the hope that she won't outgrow them the first season.

Chandler's bathtub

To Peggy Card we leave Mary Mauroyen's careless appearance.

To Betty Wagner we leave Ruth Moxon's athletic ability.

To "Char" Hillas, that sure-footed skier, we leave Bobbie Quirk's ability to ski downhill with the knees and ankles bending in all directions.

To Miss Worcester we bequeath a trip in the mountains as a rest from the nightly exercises of Norma Booth and Jane Picker.

To Dottie Welch we leave a lock of Ollie Gallupe's long naturally wavy hair.

To next year's boarders in Cushing 1 we leave a very convenient extension cord, donated by Teddy, Luceal and Lindy which allows them to use the telephone in the privacy of their room.

Barbara Quirk's skiing

To June Kelsey we leave Lucille La Riviere's flare for new and different coiffures.

To Sally Knight we leave Betty Allyn's methodical, conscientious study habits.

To Barb Hover we leave Mary Ann Gullett's boisterous manner.

To Ginny Kull we leave Bub Woodward's devotion to the Blue Book.

To Marj Karnheim we leave her sister Dottie's cool collectedness.

To Nancy Gorton we leave Thelma Doyle's ability to stay out of trouble.

To Barbara Mauroyenis and Lorraine Harrison, we leave Jeanne Inshaw's and Etta Eldredge's operatic voices.

To Gussie Morgan we leave Doris Barry's modesty.

To Tex Weatherby we leave Schilf's meek laughter.

To Alice Moran we leave Barb Mayhew's days of tugging with her geometry book.

To Jean Bond we leave Betty Jewett's prize faculty of always getting to class before anyone else.

To Mary Murphy we leave Fifi Burr's energetic, vivacious manner.

To Diane de Castro we leave Ann Hathaway's quiet stability.

To Judy Birch we leave Frosty's option on the best bridge table in the Barn.

To Doretta Garcia we leave Dot Sherwood's knack for confusing her directions.

To Dot Stulhbarg we leave Mim Cross's stage talents.

To Frannie Ramsdell we leave one of Marjorie Midgeley's rare smiles.

To the 1941 editors of the News and Leaves we leave a new Wage and Hour Act.

To Betty Grant, the Amazon of the Junior Class, we leave Dot Somerville's strength.

To Lasell, we leave the widow's peaks of the Friedstein twins to be used in future identification of twins.

To the gloomy girls on a rainy day, we leave one of Camie Porter's jokes.

To the lucky girls who are coming to Chandler 2 we leave Rudy Bowman's and Maxine Mann's bright colored wallpaper and temporary curtains.

To the Class of 1941, we intrust the Senior year at Lasell with all its fun, hard work, and wonderful friendships.

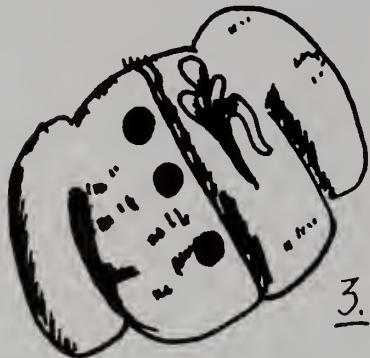

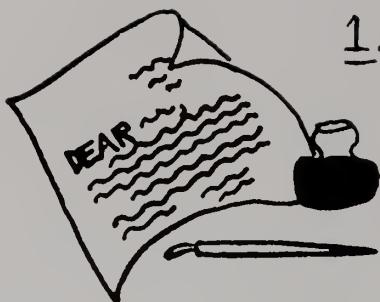

Signed,

PAT HITCHCOCK

1. EXCERPTS FROM THE

Good evening everybody. If you'll just hold on tight, I'll whisk you twenty years into the future. All set? Here we go! A bit of change in voice to lend atmosphere, and here I am fat 'n forty and with a grand handsome surprise for you. Just this morning that ten-ton round-robin letter (1) begun way back in 1940, reached my happy home. Twenty years is a long time to wait for a letter, but this one was worth it. Just wait till I tell you what's happening to everybody.

To begin with, Lillian Adams has persuaded Jane Picker and Norma Booth to come down to Puerto Rico, and they're cultivating a profitable sugar plantation (2).

Up in New England I learned that Ruth Ann Frost, Bobbie Wilkinson, Jeanne Hubbard, and Marjorie Minchin are conducting a round-table (or should we say breadfast-table?) discussion on the subject of promoting two copies of the funny page for every paper.

And speaking of the comic sheets, did you know that Mary McGrath and Kay Buckley have taken over Terry and the Pirates? They couldn't stand waiting another year for the Dragon Lady to come back, so they bought out Mr. Caniff and reinstated her themselves.

In New York, Mary Bradshaw is capitalizing on a nifty fox jacket and an orchid (3)—she's running an all-college date bureau. Her helpmate, Rudy Bowman, stands right beside her, and with a wily tongue persuades young things that a bad date is better than none.

Also in New York are Becky English and Betty Bell. Becky, now a concert pianist, broadcasts weekly from the R.C.A. Building. Betty Bell—in the same studio—also broadcasts regularly, she reads recipes to the nation's newlyweds. She claims that her concoctions are for the college bred, and she calls her budget meals "Bell's Campus Scrapers."

Have you heard that the twin organ program that all of Boston is talking about, is created by none other than Isabelle Hughes and Elinor Goulding? They are the Lasell team who finally decided to join forces because they could never decide who was going to practice first.

You know, once there were three little girls in Carpenter Hall, all of them with a definite "heart interest." But this year they joined up with the Society for Single Souls. I have here a statement signed by those three, Margaret Gibb, Doe Farnum, and Marjorie Williams: "Beware that corncob smile! Or you, too, will be always a bridesmaid and never a bride."

Pat Hitchcock is tired of nursing as a career, so for her hobby she makes leis for romantic Bostonians with a travel lust (4). She sells them on the corner of Washington and Summer streets at noon on Saturdays. They wrote me that two or three times a season Marju Fraser and Jean Shaw come down to Boston and join Pat on her cosy corner to demonstrate their Maine version of Hawaiian Hula, the Caribou Cooch.

CLASS PROPHECY

Pussy Aiken, always an athlete and interested in games of skill, has persuaded two of her former Lasell chums to join her in a side show at the county fair. She can be seen this summer doing her sensational trapeze act at the fair. Also at the fair are Dotty Dayton—doing beautifully with the old shell game—and Janet Clark. Janet will crystal gaze a remarkable future for you if you'll cross her palm with silver.

Three of our day students have decided they'd like to see what it's like to live away at school. So they have rented Woodland for the summer. Betty Dearborn is still busy with her arithmetic, Florence Evans can sketch to her heart's content, and Priscilla Miller can actually find time to read her Buyer's Manual.

Betty Birkland, our one-time President of the Missionary Society, now goes one step farther—she dons a red cape and wields a mean bell come Christmas Time. (5) Keeping her company is Bobby Schilf—another of our hard workers. She's giving Betty pretty stiff competition, that Santy Claus suit is so attractive.

We have an eminent psychologist in our midst now. She is Betty Martin, and to make her psychological principles absolutely foolproof she tries them out first on three of her old classmates, Lillian Richards, Dotty Service, and Betty Davis. These girls have written that they are gradually turning into real psychological cases.

Here's a unique piece of news. Helen Woodward and Mim Tappan, the resident students whose room had a balcony convenient for spring sun bathing, have organized a Sun-Worshippers' Cult. Their specialty is aptly phrased in their advertising slogan: "Get the Most out of Your Apartment House Fire Escape."

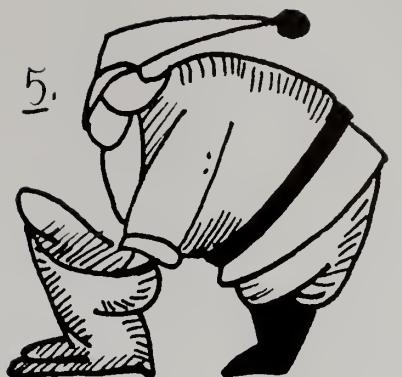

Marge Millard—enthusiastic crew girl—has finally attained her life ambition (6). All summer long she and all-star Midge Midgley paddle the Swan Boats around the lake in the Public Gardens.

Three of our girls, Adele and Estelle Friedstein and Esther Bennett, are on the radio this season. They have inaugurated a unique weekly question-and-answer program. They call it, "Gee—Quiz?!"

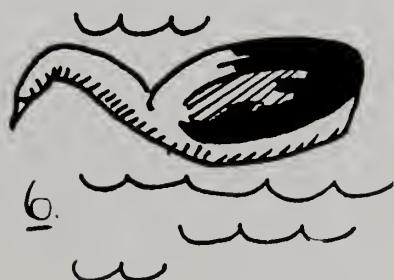

Aha! Here's something. I know of two working girls who have put the old gray matter to work and mapped out personalized careers for themselves (7). Betty Phillips has started a knitting shop, and her specialty is teaching you how to knit in the movies. (A little trick she mastered during our black-out assemblies in Winslow Hall.) Luceal Welsh has opened a shop on Park Avenue. Her scheme for coloring your glasses frames to match your fingernails has finally gone over.

Nancy Bailey and Priscilla Sleeper have gone into partnership in a taxi business, and are now back on their old run between Woodland and Bragdon.

Jane Ryder, Cynthia Davis and Betty Ellis are mighty busy these days (8). They are running a shopping service bureau. Jane takes care of the telephone orders and the business end of things. Cynthia is running their advertising campaign. And Betty, a Lasell merchandiser, is head of the delivery service.

Just last winter President Roosevelt, now in office for his eighth and final term, has called in Jane Bartlett, Pat Kieser, and Ruthie MacDowell to confer with him. They are now the official brains of the White House—his are slightly tired this term—and as the Brain Trust they function extremely well.

Jeanetta Annis informs us that she has built up a large and enthusiastic modern-dance class at Helena Rubinstein's New York Salon (9). Jeanetta says that it's a sugar-coated dose of exercise, but that her bored socially prominent clientele will do anything to catch a little beauty. Two of her most regular Venus Vipers are Ann Hathaway and Mary Alice Houghton.

In Boston once again are three more of our class, all of them working in one office. Ruth Dean, of the soft voice, is a Confidential Secretary (Oh, so confidential!). Mildred Ellis is a switchboard operator. (She finally made it! Just last month she completed her eight hours of switchboard work in Woodland, and Mrs. Trull gave her a personal recommendation for this job.) And Pauline DiTullio is a bookkeeper. The books are bigger than she is!

Helen Clement and Florence Ross are basketball instructors this year at a Boston public playground (10). They've been trying all season to make a basket, but to date they've scored a healthy goose egg. Next year, they write, they intend to let the children take over.

And here's something new and different, a Society for the Prevention of Having to Leave School (11). It's true; and three of the most ardent advocates of this movement are Martha Cooney, Marjorie Boynton, and Margaret Arnold. This June they are busy picketing all the graduation exercises in the East.

They tell me that Dee Ohlrogge is happily installed at Bowdoin as a House Mother—or visiting chaperon—in her favorite fraternity house. Each year House Parties bring on a strange nostalgia for Dee, and she just can't stay away. Close to the campus is a Chummy Crumb Shop. It is owned and operated by Grace Roberts, and incidentally, endowed by Lasell—the tables are turned!

Every time you pick up a fashion magazine these days you'll see the faces of three of your old classmates, Betty Lindemuth, Dotty Cooke, and Teddy Campbell. They climbed the long hill to success by modelling—feet first.

And now, to trespass on Mr. Winchell's toes, I'd like to tell you about the people who are marching two-by-two these days (12). Doing the Marital Goose Step (and loving it, are Maxine Mann, Ruth Fulton, Doris Barry, Barbara Kimball, and Mary Elizabeth Hutchinson.

Two specialists have come to my attention. Charlotte Fowler, a quiet little girl while at school, is majoring in swing these days. And Janice Thomas, a super-quiet and unobtrusive youngster twenty years ago, is now an expert on the dance of the Jitterbug.

Word has come that Etta Eldredge and Dotty Karnheim are opening up a chain of restaurants that are expected to give Mr. Howard Johnson a nasty headache in the way of competition. And why not? They learned their culinary tricks at Lasell. Jean Inshaw has secured the contract for designing and decorating all their restaurants and that, too, should earn a gold star.

As for Bobbie Woodward and Ruth Moxon—they've opened a pet shop (13). And from what I can find out they're doing a thriving goldfish business. Each day they take two fish to Mr. Danglemeyer, and with them he gives away everything from toothpicks to talcum powder.

Beezy Crosby and Mary Jane Shenk are also doing a rushing business. They've put up a concession stand on the corner of Woodland Road and Seminary Avenue. They wrote that they overcame Dr. Winslow's objection that it spoiled the view from his house by offering to work hand and foot with the Endowment Fund Committee. "Eat your way through us to a New Building" is their motto.

The Boston Hospital now employing Bev Burkhardt and Norrie Beakes has never been run like this before; Norrie as Dietitian cuts up the food for the patients, and Bev as Head Surgeon, cuts up the patients (14).

I've discovered too, that Nancy Brown has just become a feature reporter on a large New York daily. Working on that same paper with her is Jayne Jewett. Jayne is taking care of Dorothy Dix's column for awhile. And the things she's advising—a-wow!

Down on Broadway Alberta Taylor and Betty Sue Smith are sharing honors in a benefit performance of their Lasell hit 'Pride and Prejudice.'

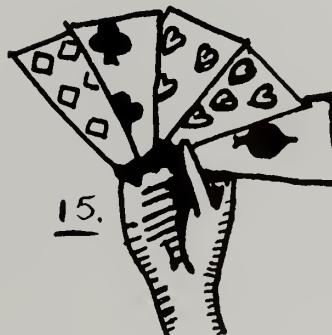

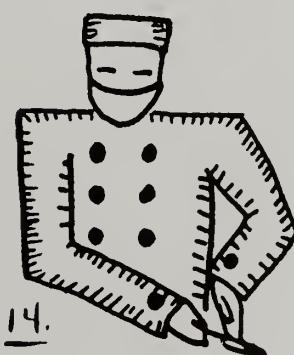

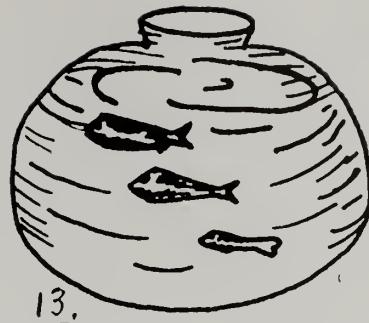

Boody Nichols and Marge Talcott are making a nice profit on their recently organized Fifth-at-Bridge Service (15). "A Kibitzer at your party is worth two in our office" they always say.

Mary Mathews has a very profitable hobby—commercial photography (16). Remember that broad grin of hers back at school? Well, the Pepsodent people have signed her for a long-term contract. They suggest, "Look for Smiling Mary Mathews on the Box." Another youngster making use of a natural asset is Frosty Birdseye. She has patented her own original refrigerated tonic for blond hair which she calls "Birdseye's Frosted Hair Food." And as for Camie Porter, well they tell me she has started a lecture series on "Glorifying the American Freckle." Wonderful business; sort of a case of Pigment for Profit.

Well, I guess that takes care of just about everyone. From where I stand, 1960 looks like a busy old year for this class. But not too busy for health, happiness and the pursuit of husbands I hope. The Class of '40 deserves the best, and I predict that in the years to come Good Fortune will smile kindly on 1940's children.

And so - good night.

Good-bye to Cushing, but not to the glorious memories of our days here as students at Lasell!

Chandler House

Chandler House? You can't miss it.... It's the white house with the green shutters across from Winslow Hall.... You'll be welcome, so come and visit us.... As you enter, you will be greeted with a cheery "Hello" from Miss Blatchford.... at the head of the stairs you will be halted by the interfusion of voices resounding from Miss Dunham's room.... Yes, they are our favorites.... even though getting light-cuts is like pulling teeth.... We will never forget those frequent gatherings with coffee, knitting, and Glenn Miller's music.... Sudden studious nights before mid-years.... Afternoons with a slight conflict between the piano and radio.... and last but not least, frequent Sunday nights with typewriters clicking hastily onward—Yes, another budget is due.... We can still remember the commotion over Dee's picture on Life magazine.... Rudy's sudden change of a Blind Date.... At times we have boasted of the athletes in the house.... especially those who did their exercises in the middle of the floor—while the first floor complains of falling plaster.... How envious we all were of Maxie and her frequent trips to

Maine.... Cyn's frequent evening sojourns to the library had us worried for a while—it would be terrible to have an intellect in the house—but that was all cleared up when we found out it was all due to an unusually loud radio or two in the house

.... What would we do without cans?—Grace has developed quite a unique technique for opening cans and eating dried apricots and figs.... Shawzie has constant trouble with Psychology during the week, but the week ends always seem to give her a "boost".... Ah yes, much laughter and few tears.... everybody in a merry whirl.... That was the little white house with the green shutters!....

Briggs House

A new house for new Seniors....morning awakenings by Farmer Russ....quick short-cuts to Bragdon, through all kinds of weather to breakfast....returning afterwards for make-up and books....then to the Barn....long hours of study before exams....our daily trips to the vill for that indispensable coke and many other odds and ends....rushing to get ready for dinner....astonishment at finding one's shoes in the cellar....study hour with a background of Glenn Miller's melodies on the radio....when the telephone rings everyone asking hopefully, "for me?"....Those unforgettable house dinners topped by one of Mrs. Leonard's homemade cakes....Miss MacDonald's motherly advice and comforting words....rejoicing over the new smoking room....Julia, the girl who spends her study hours presiding efficiently over the library....Charlotte's infectious giggle....Janet always getting called away between a precious knit and purl...."Barb" and "Ollie" studying to be secretaries, playing mothers to their two goldfish "For Brighter Smiles" and "With Alkalizing Foam"....Margery and her typewiter....Henrietta lending her quiet charm to the house....Betty Sue and Alberta, Briggs' contribution to the theater....all the excitement when they were chosen to appear in the Harvard Play....the neighbor's black cat that was always crossing our paths....Winter over and Spring passing all too soon....then on to thoughts of our own thrilling commencement....and on into the world with memories of Briggs that we can never forget....

Day Students

Marks....two D's maybe, but no restrictions....only Dad to deal with....One-minute chats in the corner near the chapel....Special date for lunch....Day Students' room—a very private abode....more combinations to learn....

Coats hanging here and there....seniors tossing their books into the senior room....hope they'll be there when we get back....

Day Students....Cars zooming up and down Bragdon hill....arriving just in time to slam car doors and run for class....Careful where you park....get your license registered with Miss Beede....Out to lunch...."Hamburger and a coke, please"...."Where's the Nickelodeon?"....Cars jammed all over....free taxi service to Woodland and Bragdon....9:20....mad rush for the mailbox....Know there won't be anything for me....but who knows....

Assembly time....those cars again.... "Hey!....going my way?"....not enough room, but make the best of everything....

The blizzard....terrific snow and wind for two days....stranded at home....impossible to get the car out of the garage....getting stuck halfway to school....

Spring again....tops down....getting tanned....hair blowing....Crew's here again....we turn our cars into jitneys and transport the paddlers to the Charles....every night trips to school....to practice marching....to practice singing....to practice speaking....Phew!....but it's worth it....then there were those nights we skipped for a coke....demerits can't keep a day student in!....It's almost over....wonderful friends....hate to leave....Well, we can always come back and visit....there's an advantage in living near-by!

CALENDAR

That's where my money goes!

SEPTEMBER

- 14—Juniors and new girls register—a mad search for roommates ensues.
- 16—The underclassmen take a sight-seeing tour of Boston—Comment on the trip "What, no beans?"
Also, the new "studes" meet the faculty at a reception. Support is rendered by the senior sisters.
- 18—School officially opens with a record enrollment of 472.
- 24—Reverend Boynton Merrill inspires us all with a talk on "The Wind Was in Their Wings" at Vespers.
- 21—We meet an old friend—Mrs. Sypher delivers her first Current Affairs lecture in assembly.
- 25—Revenge!! Junior Week and seniors make up for year before—Loads of fun proved that Lasellites are good sports.

OCTOBER

- 5—The annual Plymouth trip—A beautiful day, wonderful scenery; brownies at the Winslows—lobster, steamers, and sandwiches at the Amesburys.
- 6—Dramatic Club gives one of their usual parties in the Barn—You know "We'll furnish the food but you furnish the entertainment" . . . so the juniors do, much to their discomfort!

- 9—Senior officers are announced—the entire school turns out in formals to acknowledge the crew of the "Good Ship '40."
- 10—The LAMP staff organized in a big way—determined to get the book out on time.
- 12—Another privilege for the juniors—They are allowed to visit the rooms of the seniors! Tea is served in the Barn.
- 18—Gardner starts the ball rolling for house activities—They entertain the class officers at a hot dog-roast.
- 19—What a windy, cold day! Annual Marblehead and North Shore trip.
- 25—Miss Nancy Byrd Turner, a favorite, returns to read her poetry to us.
- 28—First dance given by the Dramatic Club—A mass production of blind dates!!
- 26—Look at those beaming seniors sporting their new senior hats.

The smile of sportsmanship—Junior Week

NOVEMBER

- 1—Hurrah for the seniors as they beat the juniors 2-0 in hockey.
- 2—Off again, this time to Lexington and Concord.
- 3—"Sullie" and "Hubby" represent Lasell at a Student Council meeting at Green Mountain Junior College.
- 5—While a storm rages, Dr. Vivian Pomeroy tells us "Wisdom is Calling."

9—"Glad I'm not a judge"—Woodland entertains us all at their Open House—judges determine which room is the most artistically decorated.

11—Armistice Day—We pay our tribute at the Auburndale monument... We celebrate with a free week end!

13—What's this sudden change? These seniors certainly can be neat and good looking when they want to be—Oh, I get it—senior pictures for the yearbook.

20—Art Club initiations—weird judges presiding, as would-be artists are taken over the ropes!

25—The first Dramatic Club presentation, Pride and Prejudice—Result—much pride and no prejudice! Seniors really shine as they attend the first of the Winslows' teas—

28—The seniors big night!! At 5:00 A.M. they awaken the rest of the school singing their Cap and Gown song—followed by a breakfast in the Barn.

29—When is your Thanksgiving vacation? Or was it?

Sure! That's Plymouth Rock!

DECEMBER

2—Merchandising girls get a month's vacation! (except for a month's work in the Boston stores!)

6—Sweet music from Winslow—first student recital!

7—"My room never looked like this!"—as seniors see remodeling done on their old rooms at Bragdon Open House.

8—Our all-college formal—music by Don Gahan, supper by Seilers.

10—Second LAMP collection—will we have a LAMP?

13—A revival of the Gothic Fete! Bragdon dining room dons a beautiful disguise—the students also. After the festive dinner, the Modern Dance Club presents an impressive recital.

7 A.M.—November 28th

15—We're off again. A general hubbub as we rush frantically for trunks and trains—everyone except the merchandising girls who follow a week later!

JANUARY

3—The Law says we must return to school!

7—Rev. George Shepherd delights his audience with a revealing talk about Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

11—Second senior tea is given by the Winslows.

12—Chief Fast Cloud scares us all when he suddenly screams his Indian war cry!

14—"Can anyone tell me who I am?" is the puzzling question asked by Dr. Leavitt as Vespers—

16—We think we'll have a LAMP!!

19—Say, these aren't the jovial Lasellites we used to know—Oh, you're beginning to settle down to study!! Exams on the 24th!....

24—Even your best friend won't know you! Unless you get rid of those circles under your eyes—with sobered looks and sad ones, we trudge wearily from exam to.....exam!

26—If you're able by now, you can go out and celebrate—Exams are over and you can really have a free week end! Compensation!
 29—Home Ec studies start practicing in P.K.

FEBRUARY

2—Foot loose and fancy free—away we go to the White Mountains for skiing, skating, and tobogganing and....?
 10—Alumnae reunion in Boston....
 13—A great victory for the Whites—they defeated the Blues in the big Soccer game of the season....
 14—Has anyone seen Lasell? Overnight we are buried under the biggest snowfall of the year!!
 22—Happy Birthday to the whole school—we celebrate Washington's birthday and all of ours at a wonderful birthday dinner!
 24—A long-awaited occasion—the Senior Prom!—Held at Longwood Towers—a delicious supper served at midnight!! A few tears as we sing the "Alma Mater" and realize it's the beginning of the end.

Ob, well—Hello, anyway!

MARCH

1—The lion comes in with a bang as the Dramatic Club presents "Stage Door"—a record attendance overflows Winslow....
 4—The Art Club sponsors a coffee-bridge in Winslow Hall to aid Finland....

8—Merchandisers get timely advice from Mr. Backman in assembly....
 9—LAMP moves to the Barn and engages all smokers....
 13—Basketball season winds up with a hot-dog supper in the Barn—Hot Dog!!!!
 16—Lasell's Modern Dance Group excels at demonstration at the Peabody Play House—well done, thou dancing damsels....

All eyes straight ahead—

18—Whew, studying again!! This time it's for struggle number 111—quarterlies—
 20—That gasp in the middle of the student concert was really roused by the lightning and raging storm outside—but it might have been for an excellent performance!!
 22—At long last—spring vacation arrives and away we rush—Home again!!

APRIL

1—Hello again—Will we ever catch up on our sleep? Aw heck! April Fool!
 5—The Orphean Club invades M.I.T., to share in a joint concert—Dancing follows and for once, there are enough dates!
 7—A third mark on the record as we round the bend for the last long mile—the juniors present us with beautiful change purses, the sophomores with fragrant gardenias.
 10—Modern Dancers test their endurance in a twenty-minute elimination feat.
 12—April showers bring May flowers much to the disgust of the date-goers.
 13—The wonderful Junior Prom—a harmony of pastel colors as couples sway to the music of the Fenton Brothers.

19—Hurrah for the Patriots!!—imagine those poor Lasellites having to endure a free afternoon....

26—"Well, they really did it, and a wonderful job, too."—that's the comment on our first operetta, the Pirates of Penzance, presented by the Glee Club.

MAY

1—That "June in January" idea would be all right if it only worked—wish I had my winter coat!!

3—Once again we double up with M.I.T.—this time the concert meets with Mr. Dunham's hearty approval.

1939 June Queen and Court—

14—Miss Rand says—"You're expected to attend!" We didn't mind for the Lasell Community Orchestra was certainly well worth hearing.

15-17—Well, there they go! Twenty beaming Lasellites depart for the Bowdoin house parties, and that great Ivy Ball.

17—The night of nights for the Orphean Club—the Pops Concert—with Mr. Dunham directing—feeling like prima donnas, we exert ourselves for an appreciative audience....

21—Merchandisers present a fashion show.

25—That final all-College Formal and we really did shine!

29—Stroke-back! and another River Day ends triumphantly, also that famous twilight baseball game.

31—The work shop play—entirely written and produced by the students....

JUNE

3-4—The Seniors' last stand!! After exams they're free to do as they will—(Except for singing, marching, speaking, etc.)

5-7—We watch the juniors struggle, with a conflict between sympathy and relief—why?—it's time for their finals—

6—Ah, such pulchritude! We watch the procession of the June Queen and her magnificent Court. The excellent program presented by the Modern Dancers depicting the roads of the future certainly has proved "food for thought."

7—Seen arriving at Lasell—proud mothers and fathers of those about to graduate—President's Reception at night.

8—"Yes, I had this room in '08." We welcome back old grads on their Alumnae Day—At night, comes that impressive procession of seniors down Gardner Hill carrying a chain of gardenias, and after the program, a march from house to house with songs, and flame speeches; Juniors dressed in white, light the way with torches.

9—A Baccalaureate sermon that really has inspired us all is delivered by Reverend Boynton Merrill, D.D.

10—That last memorable day—chapel very early, then the commencement exercises. Sadly the seniors bid farewell to the Crows Nest, and pass all the wonderful traditions of their Senior year on to the Class of '41....

The first and final approval!

MINORS

So this is Lasell!!...those unforgettable first few days...new friends, new faces, and a sudden realization that we were finally in college....Weeks seem to fly by ...then Thanksgiving vacation, with roomie going to New Jersey for hers, a week after you return from Maine after celebrating yours....Awakened at 5:00 in the morning to the strains of the seniors Cap and Gown song...rushing to the window to watch the procession ....Ah, ha—we discover talent in our class with the presentation of "Pride and Prejudice"....Christmas vacation—time out and a rest for all...Pardon, did we say rest?...Seems there's no rest for the weary, and so we are drawn into those lurking shadows of midyear exams....Hurray! the first snow and out come skis, sleds, and toboggans...remember that first time on skis?....And will you ever forget the birthday dinner? ...with our junior song to Miss Potter....Next our junior jumpers excel on the basketball court—but bow to their superiors, the seniors....At long last, the Easter bunny comes to call and we get a vacation.... Glad to get back in order to show that new Prom dress off to the gang...anxiously awaiting the 13th—the great day...then reminiscing for weeks after....Spring fever sets in—and we all think we'll take it easy.... Those wonderful spring sports—baseball, tennis, crew ....How fast our junior year has gone...Soon the seniors will be graduated and we shall be taking their places next year...we are determined to follow the standards they have set before us!!

"Into thy care we pledge our lamp of learning"

Junior Songs

O, pledged to our college,
By virtue of our allegiance,
We'll uphold your renown
By our deeds and knowledge—
Class of "Forty-one."

O, hail to our colors,
Symbols of truth and of glory;
"One for all, all for one"
This our motto will be,
Class of "Forty-one."

Tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp, tramp,
tramp, tramp, tramp.
Here come the juniors marching
Along the victory road;
Those girls are never failing
Beneath a heavy load.

Ready, willing and able
They fulfill all the tasks.
For the words "success," "joy," and "happiness,"
"J-U-N-I-O-R-S" will always spell the best.

The senior year is almost over
For spring is here,
And to our friends we're drawing closer;
We feel the parting near.
So we join our hearts in praise to you, O
    Senior Class
We'll always think of all those we knew
No matter how years pass.
Linked together by our love and faith for
    dear Lasell
We bid the class of nineteen-forty
Luck and a fond farewell.

O we are the juniors and we stand up for our rights
We'll always praise the seniors but we'll also hold the light
Stick together when they ask who's got the pep of dear Lasell
And the juniors will excel.

We are proud to state that we're the juniors of Lasell,
We haven't been here very long, but still we think it's swell.
We really like the seniors, we're not ashamed to tell,
But still we think we'd rather be the juniors of Lasell.

In the evening, in the twilight
We can hear Lasell girls singing—
In the evening, in the twilight,
Lasell juniors praises ringing.
We have loved you while we've been here,
We will miss you when we leave you.
So we're singing in the evening to Lasell.

We're the juniors, cheer the juniors
We've got lots of pep.
To Lasell we will be loyal, we'll keep up her rep.
We'll always cheer the seniors, fear the seniors
But we think they're swell.
We're new, but we'll be true
To dear Lasell.

Bragdon House

Bragdon, one of the great centers of activity....the general confusion of new faces, new names...."What course are you taking?"....getting acquainted with one's neighbors with a few practical jokes....the almost continual process of rearranging furniture....Nightly disputes as to whose turn it is to put in the order for food....all the wishful thinking that goes on as the telephone rings....the awe-inspiring sight of seniors taking Cap and Gown....the eager anticipation before the holidays, and the hours of reminiscence afterwards....the great hilarity over the unforgettable White Mountain Trip....mingled pleasure and regret at the sight of the last remnants of snow....Spring Vacation in the offing....nightly dips in the pool....the mad rush to clean the room Monday morning before dashing to class....the competition among the Bragdonites to see which girl can cover her wall spaces the most completely with her pictures and banners....Miss Potter's renowned "Dove" meeting on Sunday nights....trying to study in the early evening, as the spring days grow longer, and lovelier....the thrill of stepping into those war canoes for the first time....paddling hard at crew practice, preparing for the races of River Day....time flying too fast as one realizes that the year is almost over....wondering what it will be like without the seniors....and then fond farewells, and a wish for good luck to the graduates....A year completed that we can never forget....real friendships, good times, and valuable experiences....

To the Class of 1942

LA SELL

Dear Sophomores,

As it is with everything enjoyable, our senior year has passed, but it will always remain in our memories as one of the most wonderful and thrilling years of our lives.

On this page the Senior Class of 1940 wishes to express its pleasure at having had such a grand sister class in your class of 1942.

We want to thank you for your indispensable assistance on class night, and want every member of the Sophomore Class to know how much we have enjoyed having her among us.

Throughout the years, we shall remember you as a well-united, upright number of girls, and we hope that you will remember us when you hum our Cap and Gown song on your own night of that unforgettable ceremony.

We know we can depend on you to transmit the message to the others who will later join your class; it is up to you to help your future classmates to hold the traditions and spirit which make Lasell dear to all of us. Through you they will learn the meaning of, "We are loyal to you Lasell."

The members of the Class of 1940 unite as one to wish each one of you success and happiness always.

Very sincerely,

Penicilla Sleeper

President, Class of '40

SOPHOMORES

Supposedly the underdogs, those "nitwits" that flew around in overflowing cars, but not really the underdogs, for they had their fun, too. Always something going on whether it was required (Chem. Am. Hist., and Miss Beatley's English Class) or not, (hockey, skating, and football). Plenty of things to remember—midnight suppers in Woodland's upper regions, Miss Paddock's poinsettia, tobogganing down Bragdon Hill, leap year dates, bridge in the Woodland smoker, and Class Night, all under the direction of Jonnie Weedon....and now that long-awaited junior year looming up ahead.

ATHLETICS

Athletic Association

Our Athletic Association, which is made up of every single girl in the school, centers most of its activities around team sports. In the first few days of school, when gym schedules are made out, each girl draws for a team, the Blues or the Whites; whichever one she draws remains her team, even after she leaves Lasell.

Priscilla Sleeper
President of the Athletic Association

The two teams compete in every sport for the shield, which is given to the captain of the winning team. For eight out of the ten years that the shield has been awarded, the Whites have won it. Those who are not athletic earn points for their teams by supporting and cheering at the games. The losing team members receive small insignia; and a major "L" is given to the most outstanding athlete in each sport. Members of the largest representation of team supporters receive numerals.

In the fall almost everyone turns out for one or more of the following activities: hockey, soccer, tennis, golf, archery and swimming. Winter brings indoor sports such as basketball, badminton, and volleyball. When spring comes, half of the school turns out for crew, the major sport of the season. Other sports in full swing at the same time are baseball, tennis, golf, archery and swimming. The modern dancing classes, which are part of the physical education department, are conducted throughout the school year.

The last but biggest affair of our athletic year is River Day. Crew races are held on the Charles, and afterwards everyone gathers on the athletic field for supper and the final baseball game of the season between the Blues and the Whites.

The motto for our Athletic Association—and a fitting one it is—is "A sport for every girl, and every girl a good sport."

A sport for every girl

Heads of Sports

Priscilla Sleeper, who hails from Massachusetts, has been a "day hop" member of the Lasell student body for five years. "Sleep" heads soccer and tennis this year, and has been especially outstanding in every sport. Her lithe figure can be seen dashing around the field or gym almost every afternoon in the week.

Nancy Bailey, in charge of hockey and golf, is an outstanding Massachusetts golfer, having played in the junior state tournaments. "Bail," in her two years here, has proved herself to be one of our best athletes.

Basketball claims Evelyn Spaulding of Massachusetts as its head. "Evie" has also been outstanding in all our Lasell activities.

Michigan gave us Frances Ramsdell, head of swimming, who practices by doing Barbara Waters, winner of the archery tournament in 1939, is head of the archery group. She hails from New Jersey.

Elizabeth English, another five-year student, is head of crew. "Becky," besides being a good oarsman, is one of our best musicians.

Grace Roberts, from Long Island, is head of riding. She has been a staunch Lasell daughter for two years, and can be seen neatly and stylishly dressed in riding clothes ready for a ride any fall or spring day.

One of New Haven's best, and also one of Lasell's, is Barbara Schilf. She is head of baseball and a very enthusiastic leader. She has participated in every sport but is particularly outstanding in baseball.

Hockey

Crisp fall days, bright with autumn color....slippery green fields....the smell of burning leaves....two peppy teams rarin' to go....combine these with the traditional Lasell sportsmanship and we get breathless moments....the clash of hockey sticks....shrieks from the on-lookers as a thrilling goal is made in the last minute of the game.

Under the management of Nancy Bailey, student head of hockey, the interclass and team games were played off....From these tournaments the seniors and the Blues emerged victorious....Practices and games were enlivened by the cheering bystanders....besides the students, most of Auburndale's juvenile population....the neighborhood dogs streaked across the field barking madly at the heels of the players, adding to the general confusion.

Miss Muriel McClelland, Miss Virginia Tribou, and Miss Mira Sawyer, all of the physical education department, served as a constant inspiration during the hours spent out on the field as they taught those poor unfortunates who had never seen a hockey stick how to play the game....hockey season ended with a big outdoor weenie roast for all the after-school hockey players.

Thud!

Under the direction of Priscilla Sleeper, head of soccer, the season proved to be a good one....the seniors and the Whites won the tournaments.

Forty girls came out for the two practices; three class teams were picked.... Those who did not make the teams helped cheer their favorites.

Again our three physical education advisors were patient and helpful, trying to urge the new players along, brushing up the old players' knowledge of the rules.... After the last soccer game of the season had been played, everyone gathered at a large campfire supper in honor of the three teams.

College Government

In January, 1911, the College Government Association of Lasell was organized. Its aim has always been to promote a pleasant and smooth social life for each girl in the college. By helping the students to uphold the ideal of "Freedom with Responsibility," the Student Government has helped Lasell become a thriving institution, proud not only of her past graduates, but also of her growing enrollment.

All members of Lasell Junior College automatically become members of the College Government Association. However, the government of this association is vested in an Executive Council composed of representatives from the various senior and junior houses as well as day students. The dean and two faculty members, selected by Dr. Winslow, serve on the Council, which meets every other week to discuss the social problems confronting the students.

Once a month a Student Mass Meeting is held in Assembly, under the direction of the Council president, at which time the students may express their opinions on various problems of the school. As a result of these meetings solutions to many of the problems are found.

Sulli and Hubbie—Chief executives.

A Student Court, composed of five members, all of whom are members of the Executive Council tries cases of a disciplinary nature whenever the need arises.

This year, in order to keep in touch with the governmental activities of other junior colleges, the president, Ruth Sullivan and the vice-president, Jean Hubbard, attended various meetings in other colleges as representatives from Lasell, and reported their findings to the association.

Other officers were: Secretary, Nancy Bailey; Treasurer, Barbara Furbush.

Lamp Staff

One of the most interesting kinds of work that a student may associate herself with at Lasell is that of preparing and editing the yearbook. In the 1940 LAMP we have endeavored to present to you the true Lasell. The pictures and literary contributions we hope will, as the years go by, bring many happy memories back to you.

In the fall, the staff faced the task of selecting a theme, and planning the arrangement of material. Because it has contributed so much to our happiness and good fellowship during our years here, music, it seemed to us, would be a particularly appropriate theme, and one which we could relate to each organization in the school. As the months flew by the book began to take shape. Long before Spring Vacation anyone who visited the staff members in their quarters found them almost buried in the piles of letters, new-born copy, pictures, and yearbooks of other schools and other years. After a while the jumble was brought to order.

Besides the seniors and juniors who willingly accepted such jobs as typing, and writing articles, there were those who also did their part by sorting pictures, taking candid-camera shots, collecting payments, and writing all necessary letters. Then from time to time Miss Nelson, our LAMP advisor, and Mr. Amesbury, our all-knowing financial advisor were sought out for advice.

Finally, with the rough drafts made, each word and punctuation mark had to be checked; when the dummy had been set up, we were ready to place the cuts. Paste, ink, cardboard, and scissors gave the room in which we labored a true workshop air. Then the great day came when, with a feeling of eagerness and relief, we delivered it to the printer.

day" which falls on a Wednesday afternoon, the classroom is transformed into a newspaper office in which the Lasell News is set up. Busy editors and reporters read proof, count words, make headlines, and write up last minute "scoops" before the dummy is finally pasted. When everything is in order the material is mailed to the printer, who does the only task not performed by the students, the printing of the paper.

Although the paper contains chiefly the news of the school, it also gives space to other material such as feature articles, editorials, and campus comments. In its wide circulation the News is distributed to students, graduates of Lasell, and others interested in the activities of the school.

The Lasell News

To the age-old conundrum—"It's black and white and red (read) all over," we would like to think the answer is the Lasell News.

The combined efforts of editors, reporters, photographers, and faculty advisors help to put out this bi-monthly issue. During the many hours spent planning, writing and setting up the paper, the work corresponds as nearly as possible to that of a large newspaper office. On "dummy

The Lasell Leaves

A faux pas—Where's Miss Beatley?

The Leaves is a quarterly magazine which attempts to represent the best literary efforts of the entire school. As it is distributed to all Lasell graduates, each copy includes alumnae news in the form of Miss Potter's "Personals."

At three-ten every Thursday afternoon the editors meet with Miss Beatley to discuss material for the forthcoming issue. Plans are formulated, articles are assigned, pink envelopes notify junior representatives of their responsibilities, and the material slowly moves forward through the compartments of the historic briefcase, from manuscript in its first form to the corrected, typed copy with the word count neatly marked in the upper right-hand corner.

The arrival of the proof from the Heffernan Press in Worcester heralds frantic afternoons of proofreading, measuring of seven-inch columns, cutting, pinning, and finally pasting. At length the dummy and the final colored draft of the cover are securely fastened in a manila envelope, which then is placed, with solemn mock ceremony, in the Bragdon hill mailbox. Two weeks later, students receive the finished product.

This year has seen two novel features incorporated in the magazine—a topical division of the subject matter, and the use of photographs of the students for illustration in our short stories.

Christian Endeavor Society

Every girl at Lasell is a member of the Christian Endeavor Society. The meetings are held every two weeks in Bragdon Hall and Woodland Park alternately. Two of the main features of this society are guest speakers, such as Reverend Frank Grebe, and group discussions of the social topics of current interest such as charity work, food kitchens in Boston, and slums.

The faculty this year have proved very helpful. Our Dean Emeritus, Miss Potter helped with the program planning. Miss Eliasson and Miss Beede managed the music department; Miss Nelson, Miss Littlefield, and Miss Martin came forth with bits of philosophy.

This society lives on at Lasell because the girls feel the need for a strong Christian attitude toward life. President, Mabel Hitchcock.

Missionary Society

The Lasell Missionary Society is inter-denominational in its membership, and international in its interests, sending contributions to missionary fields all over the world.

At holiday seasons the group sends out to entire student body a special appeal for donations. At Thanksgiving and Christmas the girls response to the missionary appeal brought toys, clothes, food, and books and thereby happiness to many homes in the community. Once a month the society conducts a Sunday Vesper service, the speakers for these occasions come from foreign countries or are actively engaged in missionary work.

Five dollars by the first of May!

Those smiles mean they're ready to work!

One of the speakers whom the students had the privilege of hearing was Sir Wilfred Grenfell the first person to establish missions in Labrador where he has been working many years organizing schools, hospitals, and industries.

Under the enthusiastic guidance of Miss Potter, a great deal has been accomplished.

Endowment Fund

The Endowment Fund serves an important purpose at Lasell; namely, to raise money for the school. The amount this year will help increase the fund for the construction of a new classroom building.

The committee in charge, consisting of the fund chairman and one representative from each house. Besides receiving a five dollar contribution from each senior girl, who either gives or earns that amount, the committee sponsors Sunday breakfasts, supper bridges, "vic" dances, stunt nights, the selling of candy and sandwiches, and this year for the first time—a combination address and song book; all these helped to increase the account.

French Club

This year the activities of The French Club differ from those of preceding years, in that it is a social group as well as an educational one.

We also had an advantage this year in having Diane de Castro, a true French girl, as our president. From her we learned and practiced many of the customs and activities of the people of France.

The club is under the direction of Mademoiselle Le Royer and Madame Bailly.

The number of members is not restricted; anybody who is acquainted with the French language may join.

During October the club occupied a table in the dining room where, during meals, nothing but French was spoken. You really had to know a few words or else....

Among other activities the club members went to Wellesley College several times to attend lectures given by notable French speakers. These trips were always most enjoyable.

The girls in the French Five Class presented a play on March eighteenth entitled "L'Anglais Lel Qu'on Le Parle." The members of the club helped with make-up and stage crew.

During meetings, stories, poems, and songs all en français, were enjoyed by all.

Other officers of the club were Vice-President, Kay Buckley; Secretary, Charlotte Hillas; Treasurer, Jayne Jewett.

The Modern Dance Club

The Modern Dance Club, although a relatively new club at Lasell, has an ever-increasing number of enthusiastic members. The club is supervised by Mrs. Alice Paine Paul, the Lasell dance instructor, and her assistant, Miss Sarajenny Annis, a Lasell graduate. Mrs. Paul is a former student of Martha Graham and Mary Wigman. The purpose of the club is to give interested girls an opportunity to study various types of dancing and the exercise techniques not only through actual class work but through attending the recitals of better known exponents of the dance such as Martha Graham and Doris Humphrey.

This group sponsors several productions during the year. The programs show the original work of individual girls as well as group movements. One of the most outstanding of these is the program for the Christmas Fete, which is presented in a Gothic setting. The club also has the opportunity of dancing for the Boston Dance Council in a combined program with the Wellesley and Radcliffe dance groups.

The Modern Dance Club is an important organization open to any girl who is interested enough to attend the weekly rehearsals. Officers were: President, Jeanetta Annis; Vice-President, Janet Brown; Secretary -Treasurer, Betty Birkland.

Dramatic Club

Almost every girl longs to do something in dramatics. Whether her enthusiasm be centered upon acting, stage crew, prompting, ushering, or make-up, each student has the opportunity to show, by joining the Dramatic Club, just where her skill lies.

The club is a hard-working one, and an example of its labors is the fact that the stage crew makes all of its own scenery with the aid of the play director.

Each year two major productions are given, and are open to the public as well as to the students. The plays chosen are selected to give as many girls as possible an opportunity to act. The members of the club also produce a play of their own, known as a "workshop play."

The transformation!

The Dramatic Club sponsors two dances each year, usually informal. The proceeds of which are used to engage guest speakers

"Home was never like this!"

for the regular monthly meetings. If at any time a speaker is not scheduled, some of the members entertain.

Miss Spoor and Miss Goodwin, faculty advisors of the club, have charge of the productions. This year "Pride and Prejudice" was directed by Miss Spoor, "Stage Door" by Miss Goodwin.

One of the new features of the club this year is the presence of men in the productions. Members of the dramatic clubs of The Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard University participated in "Pride and Prejudice" and "Stage Door," respectively.

We were indeed fortunate this year to be invited to the tryouts for the Harvard Spring Production "The Ascent of F 6." All of the girls that tried out were given parts in the speaking chorus, and Jean Bond was selected to take one of the three leading female roles.

The officers were: President, Alberta Taylor; Vice-President, Frances Ramsdell; Secretary, Betty Birkland; Treasurer, Margaret Jean Fraser. Under their leadership the club has risen to new importance and success and stands as an example of what can be achieved by hard work and active interest and cooperation.

Art Club

The Art Club is a widely diversified organization which any student interested in the various mediums of art may become a member. The club members are divided into twelve groups, namely: architecture, water color, poster, ceramics, crafts, sculpture, etching, oil painting, lithography, design, stained glass, and printing.

During the course of the year students have added their artistic touch to life at Lasell.

Designing costumes and decorating the buildings made a very picturesque pageant of the Gothic Fete.

Raising funds for Finnish relief was successfully accomplished when the artists made up attractive nosegays of spring flowers and sold them to a number of students and teachers. A coffee party at Winslow Hall was given for that purpose and Mrs. Parker sold some delightful black and white prints of the Gaspe country.

A project that the art students are keenly interested in is the completion of permanent decorative panels for the dining room at Bragdon. A large order, but not for the Art Club.

"So this is art!!"

Orchestra

A successful attempt to reorganize the orchestra was achieved during the past year, under the direction of Mr. Bauguss, who also directed the Glee Club. The weekly rehearsals were designed to make the club activities both instructive and enjoyable.

The orchestra accompanied the Glee Club in its recitals, and also in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance," presented in the spring of the year.

Several orchestra members play with the local Auburndale Orchestra.

"1-2-3-sing!"

Dottie practices for the Pirates

"The Pirates of Penzance," under the direction of Mr. Paul Bauguss, with Dorothy Sherwood as accompanist, was presented at Winslow Hall on April twenty-sixth. Appointed committees took charge of all the costuming and scenery. The following girls played the nine major parts:

FREDRICK.....	Barbara Mauroyenis
MABEL.....	Peggy Card
RUTH.....	Lorraine Harrison
THE KING.....	Geraldine Bixby
SAMSON.....	Marjorie Boynton
THE MAJOR GENERAL.....	Peggy Foster
EDITH.....	Lola Carota
KATE.....	Dorothy Mellon
THE SERGEANT.....	Peggy Wilson

Throughout the year the Glee Club has contributed selections on special occasions, such as at Christmas Vespers, and special concerts.

Glee Club

We can be proud of the work our Glee Club has done this year. The thirty members gave a great deal of time and effort to give us the fine concerts and operetta.

The first concert was held on Sunday, January twenty-first, at the Franklin Square House in Boston. Among the numbers sung were "The Road to Mandalay," "Ave Maria," and "Giamina Mia." After the program tea was served.

Our dress parade!—All eyes here, pa-lease!

Orphean

With a record-breaking number of two hundred and thirty-six strong, the Orphean club entered its fifty-sixth year of activity.

Organized carefully, and with rehearsals starting promptly, the chorus not only promised to be, but was a great success. Needless to say, however, nothing could have been accomplished without the guiding hand of Mr. Dunham and the accompaniment of Mr. Schwab.

Every Wednesday morning at eleven-thirty the chorus met in Bragdon chapel for rehearsals.

The first concert was held on April fifth with the Tech boys at Walker Memorial. Strains of "Oh, Lovely Night" and "Emitte Spiritum Tuum," our first attempt at singing in Latin, brought generous applause. Then there was the return concert with the Tech Glee Club at Winslow Hall. And never to be forgotten were the dances held after the concerts with all of us trying to impress blind dates.

On May fourteenth we made Mr. Dunham proud when we sang with the Lasell Community Orchestra.

The climax of the entire season came when on May seventeenth, Pops Concert was held at Symphony Hall. Singing in this huge hall to a large audience inspired us all. Perhaps the occasion was particularly memorable because it marked the completion of a decade of such concerts with the famous Boston Symphony Orchestra.

ALL - COLLEGE SONGS

L-A-S-E-double L-Lasell
Hail Alma Mater!
We sing to thee....
Fairest, our dear Lasell,
Show her fidelity,
Oh e la! Long may we cherish her,
Faithful we'll be....
To this the school that's loved by
You and me....

We're loyal to you, dear Lasell,....
For we know you're true blue, dear Lasell
For we know you're the best
Of all schools, east or west,
And we'll back you with zest, Lasell,
So, stand up for right, O Lasell,....
Press onward with might, old Lasell!....
Our school is our fame protector—
On! girls, for we expect all victory for you
Lasell!....

'Mid the Hills of Old New England
'Mid the hills of old New England
Is a school that we love,
Peaceful in its old traditions
As the trees up above,
So then our young voices to her
Let us raise in happy song,
That they may her praise re-echo
The years and years along.

Chorus

Come girls sing a song that resounds clear
For the school that we hold dear
Raise your voices one and all
In true devotion, from ocean to ocean
For we are ever loyal, to each other
And old Lasell, to you.

In Moonlight Reposing
In moonlight reposing, its charms all disclosing
Our student home is shining on the hill.
Tonight we are singing, our voices are ringing
Are ringing o'er the campus white and still.

Chorus

Come, come sing with a will Sing for old Lasell with a cheer!
While others are sleeping we'll still watch
be keeping,
Our watch of song o'er our Alma Mater
dear.

Come sing a song to Lasell;
For her we'll fight;
We love her colors,
Cheer the Blue and White!
We'll always praise our college;
Now let's sing together;
Friends let us be,
Proud of the college that
Gave you to me.

Oh my, oh me, I'm very full of glee
If anybody likes this college,
It's me, me, me, me, me!

Oh me, oh my, we'll get there by and by
If anybody likes this Lasell
It's I, I, I, I, I!

Here are the Lasellites as you would see them if you dropped in just any day. See "Buffy," everybody's dog? . . . a real five-year student! That crew up there in the corner is composed of members of our faculty, no less! What Diane was doing in her P. J.'s is something no one knows (except the photographer, and she won't talk!). The rest of us are all just "campus-kids"—glad for the chance to get our pictures in the LAMP.

Br-r-r-r-r, how Bobbie Wilkinson can smile after a cold dip in the Charles! Maybe it's spring! Yep, and there's our Bill, the copper, smiling as usual. And Jane Jewett, the perfect oarsman, really demonstrates complete relaxation. (Boy, what an understanding she has!) Ollie exhibits the perfect golfing form, even to the grin.

P.S. Did you notice Lasell's domesticity?

SENIOR PROM

"Going to the prom?" "Wouldn't miss it for the world!" "See you there—".... Frantic last-minute flashes of the thought "I forgot my ticket!".... A canopy stretching out from a towered building.... A doorman standing by as eager girls and smiling men pour out of polished cars.... Rhythmic music.... Inside, myriad couples dancing happily to favorite melodies.... Lovely gowns, with billowing skirts.... sleek hair.... orchids, and the sweet and heavy scent of gardenias.... Laughter

....Friends gathering in little knots.... Gracious hostesses to receive us.... Stiff white shirt fronts, symbol of the formal dance.... midnight and a regiment of waiters serving the buffet supper.... Tapering candles.... silver service.... the buzz of gay conversation.... Later, the warm ring of chorused good-byes.... Outside a gentle snow has begun to fall.... Cars pull out of the terraced driveway.... Our Senior Prom is over....

An Officer?

Outside, a gentle snow...

JUNIOR PROM

Excitement....anticipation....Corsage boxes flooding the junior dorms....Last-minute preparations—a hem to sew, a jacket to press....Eight o'clock....Winslow Hall comes to life....Warm light falling from the long arched windows....Couples arriving....our one exclusively junior affair....Girls in hooded wraps....music—some sweet and some swing....the Fenton Brothers at their best....Pastel gowns against a background of dinner jackets and tailcoats....A spring prom with cut flowers everywhere....window boxes gay with blooms....In one corner a never-empty punch bowl....Groups gathered around it chatting easily....cookies to crunch on....Much later....Couples reluctant to leave the floor....A confusion of good-night's....An empty hall....and the Junior Prom is already a memory....

Drifting and dreaming...

"Is that so?" ...

Thirsty?

LIFE ON

Charge it please!

Come on Barb, have a heart!

Studying in the senior room?

Six spades—doubled

CAMPUS

Out, Scotty! Exclusive for day hops . . .

At the "B" for a "C" . . .

She'll be down in a minute . . .

Bye—See you at twelve thirty!

CHRISTMAS FETE

After an absence of one year, revival of the Christmas Fete in the true medieval style....Housecoats, gym suits, home-made costumes and headdresses, symbolic of the Gothic Period....Dim shadows thrown from flickering candles....Gothic windows, an ancient air....Paneled walls —could this be our dining hall?....The refreshing scent of fruit and evergreens....wooden tables decorated as in yore....Glimmering lanterns....a drizzle as the girls march to Winslow....The soft murmur of voices singing medieval Christmas carols....Offerings placed at the throne....The Madonna standing 'neath a Gothic window....Gothic dances interpreted by the Dance Club....Appropriate music from the background....Dancing gargoyles sending bewitching shadows on the floor....Angels slowly approaching the throne with candles flickering....Incense burning....Shepherds moving down the aisle, staffs in hand....White-gowned girls symbolic of love and admiration....Christmas carols....Praises ringing for an impressive evening.

At the top you see Norrie Beakes (note the feather) greeting guests (students to us) in Winslow Hall. Directly below are the angels who have just finished dancing before the Madonna. Next is a close up of a few of the various costumes—(good joke, Camie?)....and at the very bottom is the Madonna....and us about ready to eat a delicious dinner!

WHITE MOUNTAIN TRIP

Groans issuing forth from those who awoke at six o'clock on February second, then giggles of excitement . . . those lucky girls who had signed up for the White Mountain Trip, remembering that this was the day . . . Up in a hurry, and down to breakfast . . . At last seated in the waiting buses . . . Six forty-five, and they pull away from Woodland and Bragdon . . . Enthusiastic good-byes from wistful faces peering from the windows . . . Friday noon, North Conway at last, the unforgettable four days began . . . Russell's camp in Kearsarge . . . innumerable activities . . . Hans Schneider and his instructors to teach prospective skiers . . . skating and tobogganing . . . Mount Cranmore's famous skimobile only a mile away . . . Dog-team races held Saturday afternoon . . . A barn dance at Jackson Saturday night . . . a bacon bat, too . . . Sunday with a few still able to ski . . . Time out for a try at photography . . . a hearty welcome to fifteen girls from Lasell who arrived on the Snow Train . . . Monday, all too soon . . . Girls overflowing with thrilling tales to tell, anxious to get back to Lasell . . . And, oh yes, what about some sleep! . . . Monday night, and home again, already deep in happy memories . . .

Here we are up in the White Mountains and you can easily see by these pictures the fun we have! At the top on the right is the famous skimobile in action. At the bottom you see the mountaineers in their prime—on skates. The lone skier just above is Nancy Bailey our star. The rest of the pictures are just us having a wonderful time!!

Domesticity!

ALMA MATER

Bound firm by a bond unbroken
Love for old Lasell,
Take we now a pledge unspoken
E'er to guard her well.

Bright school days are quickly past;
Enjoy them while you may,
Mem'ries still shall them outlast,
When we are far away.

Chorus

Alma Mater, fidelitas!
Pledge, girls, for loyalty!
Sing we now before we part,
We'll ever faithful be.

Printed by the Andover Press, Andover, Massachusetts.
